

The Painted Porch Review

Winter 2010

Hello Everyone,

Hope this finds you in a "Life is Good" moment. When mother nature co-operates there seems to be a lot more of those moments to enjoy. May there be lots more to come before winter arrives.

I recall our first Open House and find it surreal at times that The Painted Porch has reached this new milestone, our 10th ..., which takes place on Monday November 1st.. Thank you all for helping us long the sometimes bumpy road to this goal. With anticipation that you will have time to share with us (before the real holiday shopping madness begins) I have a few gift and décor ideas to tell you about.

With the holiday season in mind and the opportunity to further enhance your halls and walls The Painted Porch will be decked out with garlands for your mantle, wreaths for your door and ornaments for your tree. Pillows, festive throws, tree skirts, table runners, tea towels, aprons, etc. are sure to ignite your holiday spirit. Selection is lush.

Also new bits of Williraye and Jim Shore's Heartwood Creek will tempt the most discerning buyer. Red, green or white festive tableware will grace our displays. They can be enjoyed with some great gourmet products from our pantry shelves. Worth a taste, Mary McLeod's Shortbread and Davenport's Butter Nut Crunch. Whether it's for an evening with friends or a stocking on Christmas morning. The choices are many.

Accessories, our means of self-expression and a cost effective way to tune up any wardrobe are right out there on center stage. Look for layered necklaces of all lengths, cuff bracelets, brooches, rings, and scarves. Fall designs from Three's Company, Blue Bamboo, Caracol and Veena. Also what I consider a must have for those of us always digging for our keys- a purse charm magnetic key finder - it holds your keys in place so they DON'T get lost in your purse, backpack, briefcase - even diaper bags. There are several designs to choose from and a perfect gift to anyone, including you.

I even thought of the guys when I was shopping for this season... for the hard to buy for man in your life -Bucky Balls - a great desktop toy that provides unlimited addictive fun and stress (apparently).

Mr. Whipplestreet, Mr. Jingles and their flaky friends will be out and about inside The Porch just waiting to be adopted, these snowmen are an irresistible gift to any snowman lover's home.

We always have great stocking stuffers to offer whether it's from our pantry shelves or another shelf a few of my favorites include:

- Euro Scrubby - cleans everything everywhere
- Karoma - Aromatherapy for your car
 - Magnetic Mini Calendars
 - Shower steamers
 - Eye Glass lens cleaner

Our regular stocked lines have new additions to them...

- Garden/House Flags
- Painted Lady Wine Glasses
- Metal Wall Art
- Barefoot Venus - Lilly Pilly Collection
 - Slipper Sox- warm cozy comfort
 - Wall Talk- quotes and words
 - RK Harmony Plaques, Smilestones
- Pursedentity Banks - Loonie Vutton -Toonie Hilfilger

Also mark your calendar -Monday, December 27, After Christmas Sale Begins at 10 AM.

Again tradition deems that as you browse thru The Painted Porch mulled cider will be on hand for you to enjoy. No matter the theme of your boughs and baubles we hope our collections inspire you when celebrating family, friends and traditions this holiday season.

Blessings of Love, Laughter, & Good Health to You and Yours.

Thank you again for your Patronage; hope to see you on the 1st.
